Products and technology

In the future, the process of getting a loan or a deposit account will be as easy as buying anything else online. Financial services firms will be able to proactively provide consumers with personalized, data-driven recommendations designed to improve financial wellness. And when they're ready to move forward, they'll be able to check out in one tap. Blend is building toward this future with our customers. Our cloud banking platform offers simple experiences for mortgages, consumer loans, and deposit accounts. Each of these products supports a journey lasting from the moment a consumer starts an application to the moment they sign the final paperwork and accomplish their financial goal, like moving into a new home or driving off the lot in a new car.

Mortgage Suite

Mortgage Suite • Blend Insurance Agency • Blend Title and Title365 • Close • LO Toolkit

Blend's Mortgage Suite provides a complete digital experience that puts financial services firms at the center of the broader homeownership journey. We provide a single online portal for consumers to complete their application, manage follow up tasks, obtain home insurance and title insurance, and close their loan with a remote online notary.

Our technology powers a one-stop shopping experience for consumers while increasing efficiency for loan teams by automating manual tasks and providing workspaces tailored to the needs of loan originators, settlement agents, and closing teams.

Consumer Banking Suite

Personal Loans • Vehicle Loans • Credit Cards • Home Equity • Deposit Accounts • Cross-sell

Blend's Consumer Banking Suite provides financial services firms with a single platform to deliver best-in-class digital experiences to their customers across products and channels. In addition to closing more loans online, financial services firms can deepen relationships with consumers by using Blend to offer data-based recommendations tailored to their unique financial needs.
